MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, May 7, 1761.

MADRID, January 15.

ON the 8th Inſtant the King ſigned an Order for fitting out fifty Ships of War and Frigates, ready to put to Sea by the 4th of March. This Order, and the Convention ſigned by our Court and thoſe of London and Turin, occaſion much Speculation. Mr. Wall and M. de Squilace, the two Secretaries of State, are ordered to ſix their Reſidence at Madrid. Some new Regulations are on the Carpet for excluding all foreign Nations from the South-America Trade.

Naples, Jan. 20. Orders are iſſued from the War-Office for raiſing 4000 Recruits, for compleating all our Regiments.

Paris, Feb. 6. They are actually coining at our Mint thirty Millions of Piaſtres, which Spain has ſent hither for the Support of the preſent War. Beſides the powerful Armies we ſhall have this Year in Germany, our remaining Naval Force may poſſibly put to Sea: We have ſtill thirty Ships of the Line in our Ports, and they talk at Court of arming them in the Spring.

Paris, Feb. 13. The King has created Lieutenant-General of his Forces, the Chevalier de Levy, who commanded laſt Year in Canada, under the Marquis de Vaudreuil, and has alſo promoted ſeveral other Officers who behaved well in that Country.

From the Head-Quarters of Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick, Feb. 9. The French attacked both Ends of our Line the 26th and 27th of January laſt; Prince Xavier made his Attack upon the Pruſſian Quarter at Sonderſhauſen on our Left, and carried off Part of Wunſch's Battalion; but General Luckner coming up with four Battalions and fifteen Squadrons, found the Enemy upon the Retreat, and purſued them beyond Langenſaltze, ſeized one of their Magazines at Daifnitz, and took Priſoners two Officers and thirty Men who were poſted there.

M. de St. Victor attacked our Poſt at Stadburgen, where part of a Battalion of the Britiſh Legion was ſurprized, and he loſt 180 Men. The Commandant who preferred Death to the Diſgrace of being ſurprized, was killed in his Bedchamber. As we have but little Cavalry upon the Dymel, M. de St. Victor's Corps retreated without being purſued, eſpecially as General Bock who commanded at Ruden, was that Time attacked by M. de Meanpeon, who was alſo repulſed.

It is computed that the French employed in that Expedition at leaſt 30,000 Men in this bad Seaſon, while our Army enjoyed a perfect Repoſe. It ſeems as if Marſhal Brogle had a Mind to cloſe the Campaign with that fatiguing Expedition.

Our Army is on the Point of entering again into Heſſe, and we ſhall do our utmoſt, with the Aſſiſtance of Heaven, to relieve that unhappy Country. ——

Naples, Jan. 20. The 8th Inſtant, at Night, Mount Veſuvius began to throw up in the Air, with uncommon Violence, Trees, Stones, and bituminous Matter. In the Morning of the 9th this Eruption ceaſed. On the 12th a very terrible Noiſe proceeded from the Mountain, and ſoon after it was diſcovered, that the whole Top was fallen in. At preſent it ſends out neither Lava, Fire, nor Smoke; and inſtead of a Vulcano, one would take it for a cultivated Hill. The Owners of the Lands on it are labouring there with the ſame Unconcern as if there never had been any Eruption; yet the Damage cauſed by the laſt amounts to a Million of Ducats. The Proprietors of the Lands on it propoſe to raiſe a Fund to indemnify ſuch as ſhall hereafter ſuffer by Eruptions. They reckon that the cultivated Lands amount to 200,000 ſquare Toiſes; and they compute that twenty Sous yearly for each Toiſe will be ſufficient. This Matter is at preſent before the Miniſtry.

We are credibly aſſured, that the Aſtronomers throughout all Europe are preparing to exert their utmoſt Skill, in obſerving the Tranſit of Venus over the Sun, the 6th of next June; and that on Account of the Uncertainty of the Weather, or the Sun's being under the Horizon, whereby the Beginning or End of the Tranſit may not be viſible, ſeveral ingenious Methods have been propoſed to ſecure the Advantages of this Phænomenon, as the like has never been properly obſerved, and will not happen again for many Years. Mr. Dunn has propoſed the aſcertaining the Approach of the Planet to ſuch principal Spots as are on the Sun at that Time, and alſo the Beginning and End from the Mean of a Number of Obſervations whilſt the Planet is on the Sun's Diſk. The Longitude of the Place of Obſervation to be inferred from the Mean of a ſufficient Number of Emerſions and Occultations of Jupiter's Satellites.

Whitehall, February 24. This Day an Expreſs arrived at the Earl of Holderneſſe's Office, with Letters of the 21ſt Inſtant, from the Hon. Major-General Yorke, his Majeſty's Miniſter Plenipotentiary at the Hague, with the following Account that had been received there of the Operations of his Majeſty's Army in Heſſe, dated the 16th Inſtant from Niedenſtein, the Head Quarters of his Serene Highneſs Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick.

The Army being aſſembled on the 9th Inſtant, at their different Points of Rendezvous, on the Dymel, the Rhume, and in Sauerland, Prince Ferdinand went the ſame Day to Geiſmar, where Lieutenant-General Gilſac had marched with the Corps under his Orders. The next Day the Troops halted, and the Diſpoſitions for the Motion of the Whole were communicated to the Generals.

The Army marched off on the 11th in four Columns by Way of Warbourg, Liebenau, Sielen and Dringelbourg, and advanced towards Caſſel on the Side of Weſt Uffeln. Each Column was preceded by a Van-Guard compoſed of the Piquets, which were formed into Battalions and Squadrons, for ſecuring the Head of our Cantonments; that under Lieutenant-General Gilſac was puſhed on as far as Kalle. The Hereditary Prince marched by the Road of Stadtberg, for Mengeringhauſen; and Lieutenant-General Breidenbach went from Brilon to Sand: At Cuſtelberg he took 100 Priſoners; General Sporcken, with Kilmanſegge's and Wangenheim's Corps united, was advanced by the Way of Puderſtadt and Heiligenſtadt, as far as Dingelſtadt, where he arrived on the 10th; ſince which Time there have been no Accounts from him.

The Army begun again its March on the 12th, in the ſame Order as they had done the Day before, and arrived in the Neighbourhood of Zierenberg. Lieutenant-General Gilſac marched to Deurenberg; and the Vanguards or Piquets of the four Columns being rejoined and augmented with ſome Cavalry, the Marquis of Granby was appointed to command that Corps, and fixed it at Ehlen, from whence he ſent Detachments to the Caſcade and to Weiſſenſtein. The Hereditary Prince cantoned his Corps about Zuſchen; and receiving Advice that the Garriſon of Fritzlar was not prepared for an Attack, he went thither with a few Battalions, in Hopes of being able to carry that Place at once. He attacked it with great Spirit, but the Enemy defending it reſolutely, and taking all Advantages their Situation afforded them, the Hereditary Prince thought it adviſeable to deſiſt from the Attempt, and to wait for the Arrival of ſome Cannon to reduce it. Lieut. Gen. Breidenbach marched to Munchauſen.

On the 13th the Army came, and cantoned in the Neighbourhood of Niedenſtein. The Corps under the Marquis of Granby march'd to Kirchberg and Metze, that of Lieut. Gen. Gilſac remained in their former Poſition. The Hereditary Prince cantoned his Troops about Hademar, not far from Fritzlar. Lieut. Gen. Breidenbach took Poſſeſſion of a Magazine of 40,000 Rations at Roſenthal, and advanced towards Marpurg. The Attempt he made upon that Town did not ſucceed, the Enemy being upon their Guard. He himſelf was even killed in the Attack; and the Loſs of that excellent General is much lamented. General d'Okeim has been appointed to that Command.

On the 14th the Army halted, and the Hereditary Prince detached Major General Zaſtrow to Feltzberg, and order'd a Part of the Cavalry to paſs the Eder. An Attempt was made to intimidate the Garriſon of Fritzlar, by firing ſome Cannon Shot, but to no Purpoſe. In the mean while, my Lord Granby made ſome Demonſtrations towards Gudersberg, the Garriſon of which, conſiſting of 200 Men, retired into the old Caſtle there; and in the Village, when enter'd, were found ſome Proviſions and Forage.

Yeſterday Morning ſome Bombs having been thrown into the Town of Fritzlar, Colonel De Narbonne offered to capitulate, if the moſt honourable Terms were allowed him. Anſwer was returned him, that ſuch ſhould be granted him, in Conſideration of his brave Defence, upon Condition however, that the Garriſon ſhould not ſerve during the preſent Campaign; and that the Battalions of Waldeck and Wildungen ſhould be included in the Capitulation. The Commandant having refuſed to ſubſcribe to that Condition, a briſk Cannonade was begun again, and continued for Half an Hour, after which the Terms were accepted.

Yeſterday Afternoon the Enemy attacked the Poſt of Gentzungen near Feltberg, but were repulſed with the Loſs of two Officers and twenty Soldiers. A Magazine was found at Fritzlar; but the Strength of the Garriſon is not at preſent aſcertained.

We
